DESIRE

To live is to have needs. Man, however, develops infinite appetite, often beyond his own control, savaged by materialism. Each design in this collection symbolises a type of desire - if you find yourself particularly attracted to one of these designs, it might just be your subconscious attachment to the desire. ;)

HUMAN BODY

Human is complicated and full of contradictions – and the human body puts these paradoxical characteristics on full display, easily provoked by our range of emotions. It is uncontrollable, wild, violent, symbolic, sensitive, expressive... It is well-designed though mysterious. It is sexual whilst pure. It is strong but fragile. It is beautiful yet ugly. It is a subject too hard to leave untouched.
